

Invitation to

DCCC Radiotherapy Annual Scientific Meeting 2022

22-23 November at Severin Conference Center in Middelfart

The national forum for radiotherapy research in Denmark, DCCC Radiotherapy, invites you to the Annual Scientific Meeting 2022. This event is a great opportunity to meet researchers, clinicians and students from all over the country to discuss projects and collaborations and get an overview of all the activities in Danish radiotherapy research.

The program

The program of the Annual Scientific meeting will be a mixture of plenary scientific sessions and break-out sessions in which you will get opportunity to interact with fellow researchers and clinicians from both within and across the working groups of the research center. A detailed meeting program will follow.

Abstracts

We strongly encourage especially PhD students and younger researchers, to submit an abstract for the meeting. Abstracts will be selected for presentations, flash talks or poster presentations. Submit your abstract using this LINK before 4 Sept. For details, please see the attached call for abstracts.
